

POLITICAL GAME GOES MERRILY ON

Local Leaders Waiting the Results of Tonight's Caucuses.

IS UP TO VOTERS

Cooper Men Confident, While Richardson's Backers Are Worried.

TALK ELSEWHERE

Tonight are the city caucuses in Janesville. Monday comes the county convention and Tuesday the First district congressional convention is to be held in this city. It is more than a question of mere voting for one or another candidate. It means a decision on the question as to whether the aspirations of Janesville representatives for the nomination of Governor to succeed Robert M. LaFollette are to be closed before they even have started or whether he is to have the endorsement of his fellowtownsmen in his fight for pure politics at the state convention. The caucuses are congressional in name. The only real reason for them is to nominate either H. A. Cooper to another term or some one else and from the present outlook there will be little or no fight against Mr. Cooper despite the fact that Mayor Richardson and the Thoroughbreds of the city are in hopes the congressional lightning will strike them.

Forgot the Union Label. It is a congressional convention, but the Thoroughbreds are making a gigantic effort to have enough delegates elected to pass resolutions favoring the governor and his executive machine at the Monday convention. A sort of general love-making feast, resolutions that they can send up with their compliments as coming from the home of Senator Whitehead.

They have laid their plans well. Carefully have they had their printed tickets made out with list of delegates for the caucuses. Tickets that are meant to confuse the voter and not allow him to vote for men to really represent him, who will really voice his sentiments. The tickets were printed last night. They are neatly done and look very nicely but there was consternation in the Thoroughbred camp this morning when they found that they failed to bear the mark of a union shop, while the Stalwart tickets all had the little stamp so well known to every union workman at the bottom of each slip.

Methods in LaFayette County. LaFayette county yesterday afternoon held a county convention and while it chose Cooper delegates failed to pass any endorsement for the governor or Senator Spooner's re-election. In fact such an endorsement was brought before the committee on resolutions and the LaFollette members, acting under instructions from the executive machine, refused to sanction such a move and threatened to oppose it upon the floor of the convention.

Norwegian Funeral Plays A Part. Several of the Stalwart delegates chosen at the town caucuses were not present at the convention owing to a large funeral of a prominent Norwegian and their places were taken by proxies who were coerced by the machine to vote with their delegates. Then another element that entered into the contest was the fact that the delegation of eight from New Digging was admitted to the convention despite the recommendation of the committee on credentials to the contrary and the fact that no caucuses had been held there.

One delegate appeared from there and by the gang rule was allowed to cast the entire vote of eight for the LaFollette faction. The Governor was represented by Charles Bennett, his assistant superintendent of public property and George W. Watson, the New Digging delegate, a LaFollette oil inspector of that district.

Not A LaFollette Victory. No mention of the governor was made in the resolutions adopted, no commendation of his noble actions was talked of. In a county where LaFolletteism has so long held sway the meagre majority of twenty votes, obtained by chance, is a revelation to the Governor and his machine. Sentiment in the county has changed and had many of the republicans really seen the great importance of the convention they would have turned out and snatched the LaFollette element under so badly they could not have been found. Last night they saw it when too late and are now all up in arms to prepare for the fight on delegates which is to follow in a few weeks. Then the story promises to be different. LaFollette and his machine gained their victory last night through the apathy of the leading republicans to making state affairs with the congressional matters but now that is over LaFollette county will swing into the Stalwart ranks with an ever increasing vote.

EXCENTRIC JOHN HODGE, IS DEAD

Old Soldier Who Created Disturbance Here Last Summer, Passes Away.

John Hodge, a former resident of this city, whose peculiar actions while on a visit here this spring attracted a great deal of attention and finally resulted in his being committed to the state hospital for the insane at Mendota, died at the home of his brother, W. A. Hodge, at Waukegan, Wis., yesterday morning and was buried in that city today. Word of Mr. Hodge's death was received this morning by J. G. Wray, who served during the civil war in the same company with the deceased man.

Mr. Hodge was a man about sixty years of age and was well known by the older residents of this city and of the entire county. In his youth he resided with his parents, two sisters and a brother on a farm just this side of the Frances Willard home in the town of Rock. The father was a professor of mathematics at Oberlin college at one time and the family was scholarly and well-educated though peculiar in temperament. They were all members of the Congregational church and took an active interest in its life and work.

An Old Soldier. During the war of the rebellion John Hodge enlisted in Co. F, of the 16th Wisconsin regiment, commanded by Capt. Craig. Mr. Hodge joined the service here and spent one and one-half years in the defense of the stars and stripes. He was engaged in the battles at Kennesaw Mountain, Atlanta, Ezra Church and Knic-Ack Creek and followed Sherman on his famous march to the sea.

Sad Story From Life. When the war was over Mr. Hodge returned to Wisconsin and later went to Dakota where he continued to make his home until this spring. Last February he came to this city to visit old friends and seemed peculiarly grieved and disappointed because he found so few people whom he had known in his youth. He went to the Congregational church but the familiar faces of old acquaintances were very few. The people did not know him nor his former connection with the church and Mr. Hodge brooded bitterly over the fact that he was not more warmly welcomed.

Insanity Manifests Itself. The mental deterioration which resulted in his death was working on him while he was in this city and finally led him to make such violent threats and do such irresponsible things that it was necessary to take steps to have him cared for. One of his fancies was that men worked harm to themselves by having their hair cut so his hair and beard were permitted to grow untrimmed. His peculiar unkempt appearance was sufficient to make him conspicuous and his actions became more annoying to the people who did not understand him as his malady grew worse.

He bothered the banks with persistent attempts to borrow immense sums of money and much of his time was given to brooding over the injury which he imagined his own church had done him. He disturbed the devotional services and resented it when an effort was made to restrain him.

Made Violent Threats. This resentment became so bitter that he began to make plans for getting even. He imagined that he had an interest in the church which he threatened to auction off publicly at one of the services and he invited several saloon bangers on to be at the church to see the fun. He tried to raise money to prosecute the church and appealed to W. H. Sargent, Post, No. 20, G. A. R., to march to the church in armed force and demolish it. He also predicted that some night the church building would be blown up with dynamite.

His friends used their influence to keep him from carrying out these threats and finally some members of the Grand Army of the Republic took the matter in charge and had him examined for insanity. The board of physicians adjudged him insane and he was sent to Mendota, from which in less than two months death has released him.

Was A Brave Soldier. The closing experiences of Mr. Hodge's life are especially to be deplored because he was naturally a kindly, genial gentleman, a fine scholar and an excellent soldier. His service for his country was marked by many deeds of heroism and in one battle a shell passed so close to his head that it wrinkled the skull cap which he wore. This possibly may have caused the mental trouble which developed later.

Sad and unfortunate as was his later life death has wiped away all trace of annoyance against his memory and in the heart of the community there is only room for sympathy for him who now rests in peace.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION MONDAY NEXT, MAY TWENTY-SIX

List of Stalwart Delegates for Each Ward, Selected in the Interests of Cooper, Spooner and Whitehead—Out This Out and Compare With the Ticket You Vote.

This evening the republican caucuses will be held in the five wards in the city. Two candidates for congressional nomination, Cooper and Richardson, are in the field. Cooper, the tried and true representative of the First district, and Mayor Victor Richardson. The one wishes for re-nomination, the other is seeking to enter the congressional field for the first time.

Nor is the fight to be alone on the congressional question. Despite the fact that the Governor and his cohorts of the executive machine, have all along declared that they would keep their hands off congressional matters the Thoroughbreds of Janesville are making a desperate effort to capture the delegates and carry through the convention some resolution that will whitewash the deeds of the Governor and throw discredit upon the honest efforts of Janesville's gubernatorial candidate, John M. Whitehead.

The Thoroughbreds are shrewd politicians. They know the methods and practices in vogue where a few can control the votes of the many by tricks and tonight they are prepared for just such an emergency. As a warning to voters it would be well to cut out the tickets printed below and be sure that the ticket handed you bears the name of the men whose names appear in the list of delegates from the ward that you live in. If you do this there will be no chance for the opposition to place in your hands a ticket having the names of two or three of the opposites to the Whitehead, Cooper and Spooner sentiment. This is their plan, so be warned, and be careful.

COOPER DRAWS FIRST BLOOD.

In the caucuses of Milton and Milton Junction, held this afternoon, Cooper delegates were chosen over the LaFollette machine by a vote of 121 to 47.

RICHARDSON AFTER DEMOCRATIC HELP

Mayor Richardson, in his anxiety to win, is personally soliciting democratic support at the caucuses tonight. His friends are pursuing the same tactics in every ward in the city. It is not so many years ago that the Mayor was a democrat himself. This may account for the unusual efforts being made in his behalf.

BURN NEGRO TO DEATH AT THE STAKE IN TEXAS

Assault of White Woman Confesses His Crime, and Then the Husband Lights the Pyre.

Lansing, Texas, May 23.—Dudley Morgan, a negro, was burned to death at an iron stake here. A crowd of 4,000 men, most of whom were armed, took him from the officers on the arrival of the train. Morgan was taken to the home of his victim, Mrs. McKay, wife of Section Foreman McKay, who identified him as her assailant. A species of trial was arranged by the leaders of the mob. Morgan confessed his crime and implicated another negro, Franklin Heard. A large field was selected for the cremation. An iron stake was driven into the ground, and to this the cowering black was bound until he could only move his head. Heaps of inflammable material were then piled about him, and he repeated his confession and was given a few moments for prayer.

The house of the McKays was robbed last Saturday, and at the time the wife of the section foreman was assaulted. Since then hundreds of white farmers have scoured the country looking for Morgan, who was captured near Mount Pleasant. The crowd numbered at least 5,000. The husband of the abused woman applied the match and the pyre was soon ablaze. Then began the torture of the negro. Burning pieces of pine were thrust into his eyes. Then burning timbers were held to his neck, and after his clothes were burned off to other parts of his body. He was tortured in a horrible manner. The crowd clamored continuously for a slow death. The negro, writhing and groaning at the stake, begged piteously to be shot. Mrs. McKay was brought to the field in a carriage with four other women, and an unsuccessful effort was made to get her near enough to see the mob's victim.

Charles H. Gaffney under $5,000 bonds in the Oshkosh courts for assault on Dr. C. O. Hanson has taken a change of venue and will not have his trial until next December.

TELEPHONE MEETING

Badger State Long Distance Men in Session.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Badger State Long Distance Telephone company was held this afternoon at the municipal court room, for the purpose of discussing the condition of the company and for the taking of some steps to wipe out its indebtedness.

A movement is now on foot to do away with this system and allow the stockholders a certain amount of service each year. Some of the stockholders object to this on the ground that they receive no dividends on their stock and get nothing for their investment outside of the toll service.

MILTON

Milton, Wis., May 23.—The funeral services of President Whitford took place Thursday afternoon at the Seventh-Day Baptist church. They were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Dr. L. A. Platts, assisted by President B. C. Davis, of Alford (New York) university, and the local clergy.

The music was furnished by a select choir under the direction of Dr. J. M. Stillman. The services were impressive and the casket was covered with floral tributes from the college faculty, students, societies and friends. The church, which is the largest in town, was packed to its utmost capacity and then only a portion of the former neighbors and acquaintances of the deceased were enabled to gain admission. The trustees, faculty and students, together with friends from out of town, had seats together. All the business places in town closed during the services as a mark of respect to the memory of Milton's Grand Old Man, whose departure leaves a void in educational, religious, social and community circles that none can fill.

The marriage of Otto Sabien and Miss Emma Kunkal, took place on Wednesday at the M. E. church, the Lutheran pastor officiating. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends both at the ceremony and the wedding dinner at the home of the bride and groom.

THE TIME SAVER

A ruddy youth in haste went to a modern telephone.

To send a little message to the girl he called his own.

He sat down beside it with the receiver to his ear.

And started in to listen to the jabber he could hear.

He hoped that "Central" might awake and murmur number please.

But all that beautiful hope of his went glimmering by degrees.

The crow's feet came and camped beside his erstwhile brilliant eye;

His hair fell out and threatened him with baldness by and by;

His cheek chapped color, and its down became a bristling beard;

Yet never once that "Number, please" his hungry eardrum cheered.

He was, withal, a plucky man, made out of splendid stuff,

And when he started into things he seldom said "Enough."

When he had reached his "middle age" a voice he once had known

Called "Number please," and he eagerly cried, "Green 8021!"

Some ten years later he could hear a gentle mumble come;

"There's no response; I guess the folks don't chance to be at home."

Yet still the bearded man clung to that instrument that meant

To save folks time and trouble when a message would be sent!

His whiskers grew and twined about that insulated wire;

The lapped round that receiver hook like little tongues of fire.

Or like the tendrils of a vine that clamber o'er a tree—

At last here came a tiny voice that said: "Well, who wants me?"

His tender passion earnestly the aged man poured out,

Only to hear: "Just wait, I'll see if grandma is about."

The blow was quite too much for him; he tumbled off his perch.

And fell upon the midwestern floor with one spasmodic lurch.

They picked him up and heard him gasp: "This service is—so—slow!"

I wish I'd gone to see that girl those sixty years ago."

And ere they laid the poor old chap to rest in peace next day

They had to cut his whiskers off to get the phone away.

FIXING GREENS AT GOLF CLUB

The Dry Weather Last Summer Has Made the Greens Poor—Will Exterminate Weeds.

The putting greens on the Shinnisippi club golf links have become so overgrown with weeds, caused by the extreme dry weather of last season, that the green committee have concluded that the only way the greens can ever be reclaimed is by a systematic course of extermination to the weeds, and a force of men will be put to work Saturday to clean the greens of weeds of all descriptions.

The committee hope by this method to reclaim the greens and get them in better shape than ever before. So far this season temporary greens have been used by the players and they have not been at all satisfactory.

The directors of the club realize that in order to keep up interest, they must keep the grounds in first class shape. Every effort will be made to get the greens back in first-class shape and it is hoped that by the middle of June they will be in good condition for playing over.

Match With Rockford
The club will have a team match with Rockford either on the 7th or 14th of June and probably the latter date will be selected if convenient for the Rockford players which will give the home club a week's longer time to get the grounds in good shape. The fair green this year is in first class shape. About all the bad places in the course were filled last season and grass seed sown on them so that they are in good condition this season.

Opening Event
The opening event of the season will be next Tuesday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon there will be a bogey handicap which will be a sweep stake for a number of balls. The match will be followed by a club supper and later by a military euchre and dancing.

CURE OF DISEASE.
Comparatively, it was but yesterday that we began to look on the body as a great living mechanism. In order that its vital force may be unobstructed, the different parts of the machine must be adjusted to every motion of bone, ligament and muscle. Pure air must penetrate every minute cell of an impeded lung; pure blood must circulate in every organ and tissue; and a perfect nerve supply with an irrepressible organic force must animate every tissue and pass through every region of the body.

To see that this is the condition of the body is the function of Osteopathy.

Osteopathy aims to correct rib or vertebral displacements, to correct tissue contracture or displacement so that when the tissues and bones are restored to their normal position and function, nature may resume its natural activity. In the removing of these obstructions, irritations and hindrances to free activity lies the great secret of Osteopathic success.

A PROFITABLE CONVENTION

Beloit District Congregationalists Meet At Emerald Grove

Rev. and Mrs. Robert C. Denison spent Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at Emerald Grove, attending the sixty-first annual meeting of the Beloit District convention of the Congregational churches. Several others from the Janesville church had intended to drive over to a part of the convention sessions but were prevented by the storms and threatening weather of the past few days.

The convention, which was held in the Emerald Grove Congregational church, was largely attended and was one of unusual power and helpfulness. Every church in the district was represented and interested Congregationalists from the surrounding country drove to the convention in large numbers. The large delegation of pastors and laymen, who traveled by train, were met at this city and at Avalon and taken in carriages to Emerald Grove where they were most hospitably entertained.

The first session opened at the church on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and at the close of the afternoon meeting, supper was served in the social rooms, thus making it convenient for the delegates to remain for the full privileges of the evening service besides giving them the pleasant opportunity of forming and renewing acquaintances. The same plan of serving dinner and supper at the church was followed on Wednesday and about one hundred people being served during the noon intermission.

The sessions on Wednesday continued throughout the day and evening. The entire convention program was packed full of good things, being practical and spicy, and both delegates and the people of Emerald Grove church felt that it was a very successful and profitable convention. The paper by the Rev. S. P. Wilder, of Delavan, formerly pastor of the Janesville church, on "The Church and the Community" was especially valuable. Rev. Denison took part in several of the discussions. The entertaining pastor and people were untiring in their efforts to care for the visitors and every plan passed off with clock-like precision.

At the republican ward caucuses held last night, for the purpose of selecting delegates for the first assembly district convention to be held in the city hall on Friday evening, when delegates will be selected to the first congressional district convention, at Janesville on May 27, the La Follette supporters were completely cleaned out.—Racine Journal.

THE MACHINE.

"Of all the perfect, noiseless, automatic, neat-working, frictionless, compensating-balance, adjusted to heat and cold, direct and alternating current, wireless, self-oiling, double-action, power-saving, self-fed, fuel-saving, smoke-consuming, out put irregularizing, time schedule registering machines ever known in Wisconsin politics, the La Follette contrivance is the best. The only way to ditch such a machine is to tear down the building in which it is erected."—Madison Democrat.

WEATHER FORECAST.
Generally fair tonight and Saturday.

IMPORTANT CONVENTION

The county convention to be held at the Court House at 2 o'clock on Monday, will have a wide influence throughout the state. It means much more than the nomination of a congressman, for there is so little opposition to Mr. Cooper, that his re-nomination is simply a matter of form.

Every conservative republican in LaFollette forces during the past two weeks, to capture the delegates and control the convention in the Governor's interests. This they desire to do for two reasons. One for the moral effect on the state at large, the other to shut out any resolutions that might be presented in favor of Senator Spooner.

Every conservative republican in the city, will realize the importance of attending the caucuses tonight, and electing delegates that are favorable to Spooner, Cooper and Whitehead. There will be no trouble about the Cooper delegation. The opposition will develop against Spooner and Whitehead.

As the campaign progresses and Senator Whitehead's strength develops, the Governor's organs, backed by the Milwaukee Democratic Press, are busily engaged in unearthing roorbacks in an attempt to stem the tide of popular sentiment.

The latest is a fake story regarding Congressman Barney. The claim is made that Senator Spooner, State Senator Jones and the whole Milwaukee contingency, have decided that Senator Whitehead is a weak candidate and that at the last moment, Barney is to succeed him.

The story is too silly to command serious attention. Senator Whitehead has no more staunch or loyal supporter than his colleague Senator Jones. So far as Senator Spooner is concerned, he is in hearty accord with Senator Whitehead. He fully recognizes the fact that Mr. Whitehead is the people's candidate. The two men occupy the same position, so far as Republican sentiment in the state is concerned, and their political interests are identical.

Sensor Spooner is well aware that if Gov. LaFollette is re-nominated, that his name will not be considered in the next legislature. While he is not mixed up with the fight now going on in the state, his interests and sympathies are all with Senator Whitehead.

The Republican League is not a Milwaukee organization. It is state wide and working in perfect harmony. The Milwaukee contingency, as well as every other contingency, is loyal to Senator Whitehead. There is no more thought of Mr. Barney, or any other man, as a compromise candidate, than there is of defeat.

Sensor Whitehead is the one and only candidate of the conservative element of the party. He is in the race to stay, and he will be the choice of the convention for governor.

THE EARLY CONVENTION

The action of the Republican State Central Committee, in selecting an early date for the convention, and Madison as the location, is evidence of weakness on two counts.

It has been apparent for the past month that the Governor is steadily losing ground, and nothing was to be gained by delay. So far as the location is concerned, that is simply evidence of desperation. He did not dare to face the music in Milwaukee, and hopes to stampee the convention by having it at his own home, in the rural districts.

It is well for the party, without regard to factions, that the convention is to be held early. The campaign has already been running full blast for six months, and more or less bitterness has resulted. The republicans will be as well qualified in July as September, to decide on a candidate for Governor and as soon as the verdict is rendered, there will be no longer occasion for a contest.

The campaign is the most peculiar of any that has ever been waged in the state, because of the fact that it was impossible to attack LaFolletteism, without attacking the Gov. himself. He has been so dictatorial, that it became necessary to recognize in the man the embodiment of all that his theoretical reform visions represented. Drop LaFollette out of LaFolletteism and there wouldn't be enough left of it to "wad a gun."

This is not true of republicanism. The difference is, that one stands for a principle, while the other represents personal ambition.

The Gazette has confidence in the rank and file of the party, and does not believe that the state is to be humiliated by another term of one-man power.

COMPARE YOUR TICKETS

The Gazette publishes on the first page of this issue, a fac-simile of the Cooper, Spooner, Whitehead delegates, to be voted for at the several

Ward caucuses tonight. Compare your tickets with these lists and see that every name is the same. The opposition will attempt to capture a part of the delegation by substituting other names, for a part of the delegates.

They will claim that they are all Cooper men, which may or may not be true. Any kind of a ticket furnished by the opposition will be opposed to Spooner and Whitehead and their interests are deeply involved in the convention to be held Monday. The only straight conservative ticket in the field, is the one published tonight. Vote it and no mistake will be made.

PRESIDENT WHITFORD

In the death of William C. Whitford President of Milton College, the state loses one of her best educators. President Whitford's name has long been closely identified with educational work, and while the college, which developed under his personal supervision, did not belong to the group of large colleges, it has long been recognized as one of the best institutions in the land.

This is true, because Mr. Whitford invested in it more than mental vigor. His heart was in the work, and the young men who came in close contact with him, realized that he represented vastly more than a pedagogue.

The impress of his life, covering a long period of years, remains as a rich legacy, and his memory will long be cherished. He lived to a purpose and ripe age crowned the work of a life devoted to his fellow men.

DECENCY IN POLITICS

No self-respecting Democrat will attempt to vote at the caucus tonight. The party to which they belong will proceed to nominate a congressman in due time, and it is safe to say that no Republican voter will interfere.

The contest just now going on in the Republican party, while furnishing plenty of amusement for democracy, is not their fight and they should be satisfied to look on, without attempting to interfere.

The LaFollette petitions, circulated last winter, were signed very freely by Democrats, but they are not called upon to turn out and support his measures in a republican caucus and if they have any regard for political decency, they will not do it.

The Opposition of LaFollette.

Did you ever stop to consider the opposition to Robert M. LaFollette in the Republican party? Arrayed against the governor of Wisconsin are the ten Republican Representatives in congress, two United States Senators, a majority of the members of each house of the general assembly, the business men and industrial captains of the state, all the leading papers and ninety per cent. of all the republican papers. In the city of Merrill, and we presume Merrill is a fair example of the state at large, all the oldline republican leaders, men who have made the Republican party what it is today, with the exception of one man, are all opposed to LaFollette's re-nomination. On LaFollette's side is himself, to put it in the mildest way possible, an ambitious politician, and a multi-millionaire, who wants to go to the United States Senate, and a host of fellows who think that there is something radically wrong with everything. In Wisconsin and that this scheming politician is the saint to correct all the ill that the body politic is subject to. Under the circumstances can LaFollette be re-elected? We submit this question to the careful consideration of the Republicans of Lincoln county.—Merrill Advocate.

The Milwaukee Free Press grows bolder in its flings and sneers at John C. Spooner. For years and years Myrick admired the senator and aided to build him up.—Madison Journal. The Free Press is a pronounced LaFollette organ. The Madison Journal attempts to support the Governor, but with indifferent success. The Journal has been shouting for LaFollette and Spooner, but evidently without authority. The two men are an impossibility.

Perry Wilder, of Evansville, gained a little cheap notoriety by claiming that Rock County would not support Senator Whitehead. He failed to produce any argument to substantiate his statement. Mr. Wilder appears to overlook the fact that Rock County people regard it as a great honor to have a candidate for governor.

A committee of a dozen stalwarts will be at each polling precinct tonight, supplied with tickets favorable to Cooper, Spooner and Whitehead. Voters will do well to look out for split tickets. An effort will be made to capture a part of the delegation in that way.

People who imagine that the LaFollette forces are not interested in the congressional convention to be held next Tuesday are not well informed. Every nook and corner in the county has been visited and no stone left unturned to secure a delegation favorable to the Governor. In fact the work has been done under his personal supervision.

The important duty tonight is to attend the caucuses, and get out as many other conservative republicans as possible. The caucus is the foundation of all legislation. The most important political gathering that occurs during the year.

Madison homes will open their doors to weary delegates. The good people will discover that it is no Sunday school convention.

The Milwaukee delegation have engaged the Capitol Park for the night of July 16th. Rock County is invited to join. There will be music and fireworks.

A vote for Cooper delegates, as published in this issue of the Gazette means a vote for Senator Whitehead and the endorsement of Senator Spooner.

Vote the straight ticket as published in this issue of the Gazette, and you will make no mistake.

Don't fail to be on hand at the republican caucuses tonight.

Spooner, Cooper, Whitehead, is the watchword of the campaign.

The caucuses open at 7:30 and will be open for an hour.

RECEIVES HONORS

Janesville Associated Charities Gets Certificate of Honorable Mention from Paris Exposition.

W. G. Palmer, president of the Associated Charities, has received the certificate of honorable mention awarded the Janesville Charitable society at the Paris exposition in 1900. The diploma is a large handsome one, the parchment being engraved with an artistic design representing art, liberty, equality and fraternity and some of the industrial forces of life. The lettering on the diploma is in French and is to the effect that the Associated Charities of Janesville was awarded honorable mention by the jury of reward at the Paris Exposition. It is signed by A. Picard, general commissioner and A. Miller, minister of commerce and industry.

Awarded to Janesville.
The diploma was awarded to the Janesville association on the excellent report of the work accomplished by the society since its organization and this report was prepared by Mrs. J. L. Ford, secretary of the associated Charities, who is especially well informed on the question of public charities because of her many years of service in her official capacity and as an active worker.

The Associated Charities is very proud of this certificate. The society is hopeful that when the new city hall is completed that some arrangement will be made for their organization, which represents one line of municipal work and duty. The society would like a room assigned to its work in which valuable documents could be kept. Should this be done the certificate just received will be handsomely framed and given a place of honor on the wall.

As it now stands each side has a game to its credit. The deciding game will be played in the near future. SEEK DELAY IN ANDREWS TRIAL

Defendants Said to Desire Long Postponement in Detroit Bank Cases.

Detroit, Mich., May 23.—Concluding arguments in the police court examination of Frank C. and Henry R. Andrews, former officers of the wrecked City Savings Bank, have been begun. When these arguments have been finished a strong effort will be made to secure a reduction of F. C. Andrews' bail, and then it is expected there will be a fight over the time of the trial in the recorder's court, for it is conceded that the two men will be bound over. The prosecution is anxious for an immediate trial while the defense, it is understood, wants the case set for as distant a date as possible.

Two men who were seeking shelter from the storm Thursday near Racine were struck by lightning. Neither were killed.

BABIES' PENNIES
GO TO MISSIONS

Wee Folks' Band Hold Semi-Annual Meeting in the Congregational Parlor.

Yesterday afternoon was the occasion of the semi-annual meeting of the "Wee Folks' band," the infant missionary society of the Congregational church, and seventy-five little tots, with nearly as many older people, gathered in the church parlors for a very happy time. The little mission workers, who brought their barrels of pennies to the band, included several babes in arms, the youngest one being two months old. At 4:30 o'clock a brief program was held. Mrs. R. C. Denison, leader of the band, presiding. There were recitations prettily given by Lottie Charlton, Lucia Denison, Bertha Saxby, Ruth Jeffris and George Denison, with the singing of songs by the children.

Mrs. A. J. Hutton, state secretary of the children's work for the W. B. M. I. told the children about the Glory Kindergarten in Japan, which was founded by Miss Howe, of Chicago, and which is supported by the contributions of the children of America. This kindergarten is a part of the "Wee Folks' band's work and the children took a great deal of interest in the collection of fine photographs which Mrs. Hutton showed them. Mrs. Hutton was also accompanied by a little girl dressed in Japanese costume.

The prettiest feature of the afternoon was the telling of a story to the children by Miss Myra Wilcox, director of the Janesville Kindergarten. Miss Wilcox tells a story charmingly and the older people were scarcely less interested than the little ones who gathered so closely around the sweet-voiced young woman, who entertained them so admirably.

The meeting closed with a supper served at three long low tables. Animal cookies figured conspicuously in the menu and the children were delighted when their little barrels were given back to them filled with candy.

The ladies interested in the band of little people served the supper. The pennies in the little barrels amounted to about $20 and eleven new members were received in to the society. The total enrollment is now 102 members, there being no visible increase in this total owing to the fact that as soon as the children graduate into the Junior Missionary society, they are dropped from the Wee Folks' band.

NOTED DAMAGE
CASE SETTLED

Suit of Ann Collins Against City Is Ended by Payment of Costs and $800.

MR. JENSON'S STATEMENT.

Explains The Article Regarding The Old Soldier Who Wanted Work Editor of The Gazette.—Please permit me to correct the statement which appeared in your paper of last evening, May 22nd, in regard to the old soldier painter. As to the gentleman who gives his name as George Morgan he does not hold a card of membership in the Peoria, Ill., Painters' union, or in any other union. He states that he did belong to a painters' union in Peoria some twelve years ago but he has not even got the credentials to show for that. As to the union standing in the way of his working, it is false; as far as I can learn he has not applied to any of the bosses for work. If he had he would get work because several of the bosses are in need of more help, and the idea of the union refusing to let him work until he joins the union is childish and silly and only believed by those who know nothing about unions because a man must first get work and prove that he is a competent painter before he would be accepted to membership. And then he is allowed to pay a small part of the membership fee and the balance at the next meeting. If the man held a card in Peoria or any other city it would entitle him to membership and work in any city in the United States or Canada without any additional cost and any union that refused to accept his card would have their charter revoked instantly and every intelligent person knows it.

Such mis-statements as the one made last evening are for the purpose of misleading the unthinking, and strengthen their prejudice against the union and it is but fair that the people know the true facts of the matter. The Painters' Union as well as all other unions assists all its members to secure work instead of refusing to let them work. The Painters' Union of Janesville is on the best of terms with the employers and we resent the attempt by Mr. J. W. Bates or anyone else to create any dissension or feeling against the union.

JOHN M. JENSON, President Painters' Union, No. 177.

The people will be glad to know that there is no bar placed by the union upon honest labor.

WHAT ONE DOG
SAVED HIS OWNER

Mr. Kolle Now Values His Dog All the More for His Sagacity.

There are many people who are inclined to believe in the old saying that a man's best friend is his dog. A. Kolle, of 176 Washington street, is one of those who is constantly finding new proof of canine sagacity and of the worth and value of a dog as a companion.

Mr. Kolle is the owner of a small cocker spaniel which is not in search of a new home at present. In fact Mr. Kolle considers the dog a valuable investment and would not part with him for a considerable sum. On several occasions the ownership of the dog has proven profitable to Mr. Kolle and a final incident which occurred on Wednesday noon won new laurels for the spaniel and established him firmly in his owner's affections.

Lost Purse
Mr. Kolle and his constant companion were down town together and went into a west side shoe store where the gentleman made a purchase and from there they went to the post office where Mr. Kolle discovered that he had lost his pocket book. He searched his pockets thoroughly and retraced his steps to the store, looking carefully all the way, without finding the purse.

On his return to the post office his attention was attracted by the actions of his dog. The animal was making a great fuss and jumping on his master in his excitement. Mr. Kolle investigated and was overjoyed to find his purse in the dog's mouth with the contents intact.

Found Purse
The purse was wet and had evidently been dropped in a pool of water. The dog had seen it fall and instinct and training led him to pick up his master's belongings and carry the purse until relieved of his burden.

DAMAGE BY FLOODS IN DECORAH, IOWA

Town Is Under Water and Bridges, Tracks and Telegraph Posts are Swept Away.

Conover, Ia., May 23.—The town of Decorah, Ia., the county seat of Winnebago, has been cut off from communication with other points for the last forty-eight hours.

The storms of Tuesday night flooded the valley from Conover to Decorah, sweeping away railroad bridges, tracks, telegraph poles, and flooding the town.

Two men drove from Decorah to Conover and reported that water ran through the streets, carrying away bridges and some of the smaller houses. They said that two lives had been lost and that possibly others had perished. People were driven to the hills.

The Milwaukee railway had a crew at work repairing the lines, and expects to open communication with Decorah by to-night.

APPROVED BY BISHOP.

Rev. Mr. Thoburn Says American Occupation Is an Act of God.

Washington, May 23.—Bishop Thoburn of the Methodist Episcopal church of India and Malaysia was before the senate committee on Philippines. He said the American occupation of the Philippines was an act of God, and should be continued. Senator Patterson asked whether the occupation of Cuba was an act of God, and when the bishop replied in the affirmative the senator asked if the withdrawal was also an act of God.

"It is too soon to answer that," he replied. "The United States may have to go back there."

Senator Patterson pursued the questions to some length, and the bishop finally pronounced them "metaphysical."

Left to The Hague Tribunal.

Washington, May 23.—Secretary Hay and Mr. Asprey, the Mexican ambassador, signed a convention providing for the arbitration of the famous "Plus claim," based on the application of the Catholic church in California for overdue interest on trust funds in the custody of the Mexican government. The claim involves about $1,000,000 and is the first case to go before The Hague tribunal in any form. Under the terms of the agreement each of the parties will select two arbitrators and they will choose another from the eligible list of The Hague tribunal, who shall sit as umpire. It is expected that the treaty will be ratified by the Mexican congress, now in session, in time to permit the arbitrators to meet in September.

Palma Expresses Gratitude.

Washington, May 23.—The secretary of war has received the following message from the president of Cuba: "Havana, May 21.—Elihu Root, secretary of war, Washington: I am deeply moved by your heartfelt message of congratulation on the inauguration of the republic of Cuba, to the birth of which the people and the government of the United States have contributed with their blood and treasure. Rest assured that the Cuban people can never forget the debt of gratitude they owe to the great republic with which we will always cultivate the closest relations of friendship and for the prosperity of which we pray to the Almighty."

Improvement.

"Don't you think," I inquired of the prosperous-looking man with the heavy mustache and watch chain, who was dressed in the 14-inch bulk line suit, "that the world is getting better?"

Proof Positive.

"Are you sure these corsets are unbreakable?" asked the doubting customer.

"I have been wearing a pair myself for a year," said the shop girl, "and they are not broken yet. And," she continued, blushing, "I'm engaged."

Caustic.

"Why do people enjoy dialect stories so much?"

"I suppose," answered Miss Cayenne, "that a great many persons find a certain satisfaction in discovering somebody, even in fiction, whose grammar is more deficient than their own."

Washington Star.

Their Reason.

Mr. Upjohn—Why do you women make so much fuss over your sewing circles and your aid societies?

Mrs. Upjohn—Because St. Paul says: "Let your women keep silence in the churches," and we've got to go somewhere to talk.—Chicago Tribune.

QUIET MEETING OF MINeworkers

Executive Committees of Three Districts Hold a Secret
Session.

READY TO REPLACE ENGINEERS

Mine Operators Said to Have Made
Preparations to Run Their Machinery
With Non-Union Men if Present
Employees See Fit to Quit.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 23.—The tenth day of the anthracite coal miners' strike passed off quietly; not a single incident developed which would in any way change the present situation. Rumors were rife that something was about to take place that would alter the status quo conditions of the negotiations, but they were promptly denied by leaders of both sides to the controversy. The action of the convention of the three district executive committees no doubt had much to do with these rumors. The members of the committees spent the greater part of the time about strike headquarters and absolutely nothing was done. The committeemen went into session shortly after 10 o'clock and in less than half an hour a recess was taken until 1:30 p. m. It was nearly 2:30 o'clock, however, when the district leaders were again called together, but before all of them could get up to the meeting-room final adjournment was announced and most of the members of the three committees immediately left for their respective homes. The three district presidents are still here.

Mr. Mitchell said that at the morning session the committees took up general business in connection with the suspension but he did not care to say what the nature of it was. The brief meetings gave rise to the story that the union was waiting for some information, possibly from New York, upon which action was to be taken. This was emphatically denied by Mr. Mitchell. Prominent mining superintendents who were approached on the subject said they had no information from either New York or Philadelphia or anywhere else. One of them went so far as to say he did not expect anything that would alter the situation to come from the operators' side for some time.

Status of the Engineers.
Regarding the demands made by the engineers, firemen, and pumpmen, a prominent labor official said that he had received indirect information which made him feel almost sure that one of the big coal companies had decided or is about to decide to grant these men what they have asked for. When the attention of the superintendent of one of the largest companies in the field was called to this, he said: "As far as I know, this is not true. Speaking for our company, I can say that a definite plan has not yet been finally decided upon. We have two or three ways in which to meet the latest move of the union, and we have ten days' time to think the matter over."

Another official of one of the large coal companies whose duties are such that he must keep informed of what takes place in the coal fields, said the big coal companies have quietly been preparing for men, and that if the men were to go out to-morrow the operators would be prepared to keep their pumps in operation.

This would be done, he said, by replacing the strikers with non-union men and mine bosses. He further added he had no information that would lead him to believe that the companies would accede to the request of the union.

President Mitchell kept close to his office all day. He would say nothing regarding the call for the special national convention, which will meet in Indianapolis probably three weeks hence.

Michigan Union Joins in Call.
Saginaw, Mich., May 23.—The executive board of the United Mine Workers of Michigan met here, National Vice President T. L. Lewis also being here. The board took up the appeal from the anthracite districts of Pennsylvania for a call on President Mitchell for a special convention, to consider a strike of the entire national body of mine workers. After discussion the executive board decided to officially sign the appeal for the convention. The board also formulated plans for continuing the strike, and sixteen men will be sent out to the principal cities in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois to solicit funds for strikers here, who have been out since April 1 and have lost $300,000 in wages.

Accedes to Union Demands.
Hazleton, Pa., May 23.—Matthias Schwabe, a small independent operator, started up his colliery at Couth Heberton. All his miners are to receive the wages demanded by the mine workers.

UNANIMOUS.
Of the six counties in the First Congressional District, four—LaFayette, Kenosha, Walworth and Racine—have all ready elected primary delegates which ensure solid Copper delegations in the Congressional convention. These are sufficient to renominate Mr. Cooper, but Rock and Green, the two remaining counties of the district, which elect their delegates Friday, will make that renomination unanimous.—Beloit Free Press.

TRIMBLE COMMANDS THE G. A. R.

Princeton Man Heads Illinois Department—Other Society Elections.
Rock Island, Ill., May 23.—The G. A. R. encampment came to a close with the election of Judge H. M. Trimble of Princeton as commander of the Illinois department. East St. Louis was chosen as the place for next year's meeting. The following other officers were chosen for the various societies: J. E. Seabright of Dwight, commander Sons of Veterans; Miss Mae Ayer of Springfield, president Ladies Aid society; Myrtle Kramer of Chicago, president of Daughters of Veterans; Mrs. Sophie N. Spalding, Rockford, president Woman's Relief Corps; Mrs. Larada Pillo, Springfield, president Ladies of the G. A. R.

CARRIED A GUN TO KILL CROWS

Now Farmer Is Dead and His Son Is Fatally Wounded.

Metamora, Ind., May 23.—Levi Sherwood, a farmer, is dead, and his son, Charles, aged 12, is probably fatally wounded as the result of a peculiar accident. Hawks had been killing Sherwood's chickens and while plowing he carried a gun. The boy walked behind. The plow struck a root and the gun was discharged. Sherwood's arm was lacerated and he bled to death. The boy was severely wounded in the abdomen.

Decline to Honor King.

London, May 23.—After a stormy meeting, the borough council of Battersea decided by a majority of one against sending a loyal coronation address to King Edward.

CAUCUS CALL ISSUED.

EAST SHORE EAGLES.

Bold Marauders, Savage Fighters and Wondrous at Flight.

Encounter Between Two Enraged
Birds at an Elevation of 500 Feet
—Carp is the Worst Enemy
They Have.

"The eagles of the Maryland coast," said a native of the eastern shore, to a New York Sun reporter, "while not so numerous as they once were, are as fierce and bold and aggressive as in the days when the farmers along the shore and upon the Susquehanna and Bay islands were compelled to employ shepherds to watch their flocks of sheep and protect them against the raids of these great winged marauders."

"The farmers would be compelled to do the same to-day if they were sheep growers still, which they are not, not a few of them having abandoned that branch of farming. In fact, because of the trouble and expense of guarding their flocks against eagles. This was particularly the case in the spring, when the lambs were an important part of the flock."

"In spite of the shepherds even there, were eagles bold and active and alert enough to swoop down, seize and carry off many lambs, sometimes dropping upon one so close to a shepherd that he could feel the wind from the broad wings of the bird as it rose with its prey."

"The fierceness of the eagles and the tenacity and power of the clutch they can put into their immense talons are well illustrated by a fight between two big fellows that Capt. Gallup, of Havre de Grace, saw one day. Capt. Gallup, for more than two generations a close observer of the manner and customs of the predatory birds of the coast, says that the eastern shore eagles can fly faster, soar higher, remain in their lofty flight longer and descend from it to the earth with more velocity than any other created thing with wings."

"This battle that he saw was between the two eagles in the air at an elevation of 500 feet. A long time the big, fierce birds fought with beak and talon and wing, rushing upon one another, delivering their blows and retreating for advantage in a new attack.

"Then at last they clinched and fought at close quarters. In that position they came plunging to the earth, but neither made any effort to stay the fall, so fiercely intent were they upon their savage battle. They struck together in the freshly-turned furrow of a plowed field, and the impact failed to separate them or cause an instant's delay in the fight."

"It was continued with increased fury on the ground, and the coming upon the scene of a man with a club, with which he at once took part in the battle, did not distract their attention from one another and the man killed them both. Their talons were buried so deeply in each other that to separate the two eagles it was necessary to cut off their legs."

"A spread of wing of more than seven feet is by no means uncommon with these eagles. Ospreys are also numerous along the coast, and it is a familiar sight to see one on its way home with some big fish it has snatched from the shoal waters of the bay or among the Susquehanna islands, waylaid by some overpowering freebooter of an eagle that has been on the watch for a chance, and robbed of his prize."

"Frequently an eagle will try his own skill at fishing and pounce down on the carp that root on the bottom of the shoal water. These fish are sometimes so large that the eagle is unable to lift them from the water, but the bird is so obstinate that it will not release its hold, even when the fish carries it out into the deep, rough waters of the bay."

"Eagles have been known to be drowned in that way by carp they have set their stubborn talons into and either refuse or are unable to free them again."

Roasts Turkey by Music.
A nobleman in Madrid combines music with his cooking apparatus. He has a musical spit in his kitchen; it will take several roasts at a time and play 24 tunes. The time required for cooking any particular joint or fowl is calculated according to the number of tunes played. Thus, turkey would be done nicely by the end of the eighteenth tune.

Voracity of the Bat.
In one night a bat can absorb and digest three times its own weight. A bat never has more than two little ones at a time.

Steady Vote of Nevada.
The vote of Nevada fluctuates very little. In 1892 it was 10,378; in 1894, 10,508; in 1896, 10,305; in 1898, 10,011, and in 1900, 10,196. No other state in the Union has such a record of an unvarying vote as has Nevada.

Damages Against Dead Man.
The Indiana courts have added new terrors to matrimonial engagements. In the case of Christiansen versus Crum they have reached a conclusion involving the declaration of the principle that the death of one of the parties to a marriage engagement constitutes a breach of promise, entitling the surviving party to receive compensatory damages in such amount as may be shown to be just and equitable in the circumstances. In this case they were figured out by the jury at $6,000.
